POLICE NEWS .- There was only one prisoner before Mayor Beckam this morning, a young white man arrested on complaint of a colored man from Maryland, charged with obtaining $5 under false pretenses. The colored man informed an officer early this morning that the young man yesterday collected 85 from him, on the representation that he was the agent of Mr. Richard Phil lips, to whom he, the colored man, owed the money; and that the said $5 was not turned over to Mr. Phillips. When the case was called this morning, the complainant was not present, and there being no warrant against the young man, the Mayor promptly discharged him, with the understanding that if the colored man did put in an appearance and swear out a warrant the same would be executed at once.

Several complaints of nuisances were made, and the parties occupying the premises complained of, will be summoned to show cause why they should not be fined.

LAPLAND .-- In Lapland the sun never goes down during May, June and July; but, in winter, for two months, he never rises at They look like fires of a thousand shapes and colors. Now like clowns, and now like domes; now like flashing nets, and now like streamers of silk; now like arches, and now like banners-these welcome guests make a night beautiful.

As long as the unwearied sun goes round and round the sky in summer, the Laplanders live in tents made of poles and skinks; but when Jack Frost approaches, with a scowl on his brow, the house of thick sods becomes a very snug home. The Laplander creeps into it on all fours, along a sort of tunnel. A hole in the roof lets in a little daylight, or rather moonlight, and lets out what smoke there is from the sooty lamp. The lamp is made of stone, and game was one of the most interesting of the filled with seal oil, and it answers many purposes. It cooks food, dries wet clothes, keeps the the house warm, and affords light. The Laplander likes brandy; but happily for him, it is very scarce. He has often to be contented with snuff instead of which he takes, you may be sure, many a good pinch. For nine months of the year the ground is of a dazzling whiteness, and the cold is intense. In July and August, on the contrary, the heat is almost intolerable.

The Laplanders are a very small nation. Perthen. Part of them are called "Reindeer Laplanders," and part "Fishing Laplanders." The former live on their herds, some possessing many hundreds; the latter dwell near the lakes and fiords. The greatest plague of Lapland is a plague of enals. Their numbers are ingredible. of gnats. Their numbers are incredible.

INJURIOUS SHADE TREES .-- Attention has been lately called in the columns of Les Mopes to the injurious effects on health that are apt to follow a residence near the common shade tree known as the "button ball" or "plane" tree. The fact has long been known that a stay near these trees is often followed by an irritation of the air passages, followed by a disagreeable and sometimes persistent cough. This is due to the fact. familiar to botanists, that the young shoots. leaves and stipules are covered with a thick fine down, composed of minute-branched rigid hairs, which falls off as the parts become older, and often floats in the air in large quantities. It is the inhalation of this that causes the throat difficulties in question. Besides this it frequently causes serious annoyance to employees in nurseries where the tree is raised unless suitable precaution is taken against it.

With my present advantages and superior facilities for manufacturing, I challenge competition with any fertilizer sold in the United States, in quality, mechanical condition and price.

By strictly adhering to my original formulas, using only the most concentrated materials and superintending in person their manufacture, as for the past twenty-four years.

UNIFORM QUALITY IS GUARANTEED.

Farmers, to secure the ONLY GENUINE EXCELSIOR and PHOSPHATE prepared according to my original formulas, established in 1858, should see that every bag is branded as above, with the ANALYSIS and MY NAME IN RED LETTERS.
